

“Ordinary people with courage, guts, and persistence can make an extraordinary difference.”

Mississippi Freedom Summer, 1964

A Special Event At ACM Celebrating Black History Month

ALL PRESENTATIONS ARE FREE AND OPEN TO EVERYONE!

Allegany College of Maryland will hold three lively, inspirational, and music-filled presentations about the courageous SNCC (Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee) students and the local people who were active in the Mississippi Civil Rights Movement in the sixties.

Dates / Times: February 13th: 7:00 - 9:00 PM
February 14th: 9:30 - 10:45 AM, and 12:30 - 1:45 PM

Location: Allegany College of Maryland's College Theatre

The presentations will include first person presentations about the young people who changed American's history (researched and performed by Human Service students), stirring music from the Civil Rights movement sung by Shannon and Kenny Watkins of "Souls Won", and a multimedia presentation about the time period and the people who made a difference.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Dr. Frank Smith, former SNCC volunteer in Mississippi and the current Director of the Afro-American Civil War Museum, Washington, D.C.

Dr. Leslie McLemore, former Vice-Chair of Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party and the current Co-Director of the Fannie Lou Hamer National Institute on Citizenship and Democracy at Jackson State University.

FOR MORE INFORMATION GO TO: www.allegany.edu/mlkgrant

"This project was made possible by a grant from the Maryland Humanities Council, through support from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions, or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities or the Maryland Humanities Council."