IMPORTANT:
Current LPN's enroll as a student with ACM, then apply for admission to the online nursing program. If you feel the time is right for you to become an RN, you will find ACM's online program the perfect fit for your busy life!
Prior to applying, prospective students should go to the www.allegany.edu/onlineLPN-RN and
(1) complete the questionnaire “Is Distance Learning Right for Me?”
(2) review the Technical Requirements and FAQ pages.
It is important for prospective students to understand online courses require self-discipline and motivation to complete course work by deadlines.
Students are expected to have basic computer skills when applying to the program and MUST have reliable access to the Internet on a daily basis.

Students in the LPN-RN Online program are required to conduct themselves according to an honor code, exhibit professional behavior, communicate effectively in English, and provide proof of health insurance and immunizations. They may also be required to submit to random urine drug testing at clinical sites.
Applicants previously attending an RN program are referred to the program information booklet and should review prior program attendance information.

ACCREDITATION:
The Associate Degree Nursing Program is approved by the Maryland Board of Nursing and the Pennsylvania Board of Nursing and is accredited by the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN), 3343 Peachtree Road NE, Suite 850, Atlanta, GA 30326. Phone 404-975-5000.

STATE BOARD REQUIREMENTS:
Currently, the LPN/LVN to RN online option is recognized or approved by the individual State Board of Nursing and/or Higher Education Commission in Maryland and Pennsylvania. Approval from other states is pending. RN licensure rules vary from state to state and are subject to change based on state-specific Nurse Practice Act requirements. Due to the unique model of non-traditional nursing degree programs like the online LPN-RN program, some states have additional requirements for licensure of nursing graduates. Prospective students with specific questions about eligibility to practice as a registered nurse in a particular state, other than Maryland or Pennsylvania, should direct their questions to the relevant state Board of Nursing where they reside or plan to apply for licensure.
