

Located in the rugged mountains of Western Maryland is a new and thriving concept in education--Allegany Community College. Through the years, ACC has expanded its educational, cultural, and student programs to encompass the entire community. Combining the unique, individual strength of the people of the Appalachian Mountains with the most modern and advanced educational techniques, ACC develops students capable of becoming active, intelligent citizens in society.

This concept has been readily accepted by the students whose active support and involved interest have directly contributed to the growth and progress of the college. Therefore, the staff of the ACC yearbook dedicate this annual to the student--the student of the past, the student of the present, and the student of the future.

Arts and Sciences

The Arts and Sciences Curriculum offers a student the fundamentals of a Liberal Arts education: Languages, Mathematics, History, Philosophy, Economics, Natural and Social Sciences, Art, Music, and Speech. Credits earned in the Arts and Sciences Curriculum are totally transferrable so that a student who completes this curriculum may transfer to another college or university with junior standing and without loss of credits.

General Studies

The General Studies Curriculum avails itself to the student who is undecided about his field of concentration. This curriculum enables the student to explore higher education and still accumulate credits that will transfer to a four-year college or university if he decides to continue with education. Also, this curriculum provides enrichment for the student who does not plan to transfer.

The Arts and Sciences Curriculum is The necessary preparation for those students interested in futures in law, medicine, library science, dentistry, theology, philosophy, and similar professions.

Automotive Technology

The student in the Automotive Technology Curriculum is offered either an Associate in Arts degree in service management, or a two-year transfer program leading to a four-year degree program. The program is most comprehensive, educating the student in all phases of the maintenance of an efficient and safe automobile. Recent investigations have revealed that many practicing mechanics are not as well informed or well trained as they should be. This program answers the need.

Dental Hygiene

Leading to the Associate of Arts degree and accredited by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association, the Dental Hygiene Curriculum offers a program whose graduates qualify as applicants for licenses to practice dental hygiene in all states.

The dental hygiene student has a very intense course of study, and because of the demands for the dental hygienist, admission to the program is very selective.

Frostburg State College

As the only four-year institution of higher learning within a 75 mile of the Cumberland-Frostburg area, Frostburg State College has the dual purpose of not only serving the education needs of the State of Maryland but those of the immediate tri-state area as well.

Since its founding in 1898 as a small teacher education normal school--Frostburg State College has evolved into a major multi-purpose institution with an enrollment of nearly 3,000 students. Today the college offers curricula in both the liberal arts and teacher education at the baccalureate level, and master programs in management and teacher education.

Data Processing

The Electronic Data Processing Technology Curriculum offers students the opportunity of a two-year program that will enable them to be employed as computer center personnel.

For those students intending to continue in a four-year degree program in computer science, the Computer Science Curriculum provides the necessary background for transfer to the four-year institution.

In addition to many classroom hours of study, the students in these curricula gain much practical experience with the school's computer system in aiding in grade distribution, pay distribution, and scheduling.

Forestry

Allegheny Community College is the only junior college in Maryland to offer a program in Forestry. The Forestry Curriculum is designed for students who wish to pursue a Bachelor of Science degree, and the Forest Technology Curriculum is designed to prepare graduates, after two years of study, for employment in the technical occupations connected with forestry. Both curricula attract students from all over Maryland, and many other states. Intensive study prepares the students for a rewarding career.

Where you go to college
may have much to do with
where you go
from college

This is the day of opportunity for women:
opportunity to shape your own future . . .
opportunity to discover your own identity . . .
opportunity to expect the same salary and the same right to advance in a career that a man has.

Here at Hood you'll find the inner strength, the intellectual challenge, and the individual concern to enable you to take advantage of these opportunities.

We know. For over 80 years, we've educated women for living, for being in the vanguard of their times. Whatever your goal — career and marriage, profession or family — you will get the most from a college that understands a woman's needs, for where you go to college will have much to do with where you go from college.

Nursing

Nursing demands work, time, and dedication for a lifetime of service. Allegheny Community College's Nursing Curriculum is rigid thorough and climaxes with the capping, the symbol of achievement.

A nurse's education couples an in-depth study in the classroom and in the lab with field practice in the local hospitals. Aware of the responsibilities of the profession, the nursing faculty demands the best of its students.

Nursing graduates receive the A.A. degree and are eligible to take state board exams for licensing as registered nurses. Graduates are also eligible to pursue a Bachelor's Degree at a four-year institution.
