

ALLEGANY COLLEGE OF MARYLAND

TUITION AND FEE REFUND POLICY

Summer and Fall 2023

If a student registers for class and then decides to completely withdraw or drop a class or classes, the student is still responsible to pay tuition and fee charges, unless the student officially drops his/her class or classes prior to the dates listed below.

To officially drop a class or classes, the student must submit a drop form to the Registration Office or drop online through Self-Service (dropping in Self-Service is only available before the semester starts). Nonattendance does not constitute an official drop of classes. Please contact the Registration Office with any questions about how to withdraw or drop a class.

A summary of the Allegany College of Maryland Tuition and Fee Refund Policy is as follows:

- 100% of tuition and fees (except non-refundable fees) is refunded (or deleted from the bill) if a student officially withdraws or drops a class or classes before the first day of the semester.
- 80% of tuition and fees (except non-refundable fees) is refunded (or deleted from the bill) if a student officially withdraws or drops a class or classes by the end of the third week of the semester for Fall and Spring. The Summer session varies based on the different session lengths.
- No refund, or reduction in charges, is made after the deadline dates specified below, except under certain unusual circumstances, as described in the College catalog.

For the complete policy, please see the Allegany College of Maryland Catalog.
